

By the suggested elimination regulatory review of broadband pricing larger providers once again have the upper hand over smaller ISPs. It is no different than the reason behind the divestiture of the Bell System. Fair and equal treatment fosters competition.